

2014 State Government Internship Selections

Alamance County

Casey Hembrick, a senior design studies major at North Carolina State University, has accepted the Creating OSHR Brand and Social Media Savvy internship working with the Deputy Director's Office in the Office of State Human Resources in Raleigh.

Alexander County

Averi Ritchie, a senior geography/community planning major at Appalachian State University, has accepted the Species of Concern Monitoring and Outreach Assistant internship working with the Division of Coastal Management in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Wilmington.

Brunswick County

Tamara Campbell, a second year community college aquaculture technology student at Brunswick Community College, has accepted the Husbandry internship working with the Division of NC Aquariums in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Pine Knoll Shores.

Buncombe County

Marissa Mueller, a junior cell and molecular biology major at Appalachian State University, has accepted the Wildlife and Sea Turtle Educator – Outer Banks Center for Wildlife Education internship, working with the Division of NCWRC/Wildlife Education/Inland Fisheries in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Corolla.

Amanda Emery, a junior double majoring in criminal justice and political science at Western Carolina, has accepted the Correctional Case Manager internship working with the Division of Adult Correction in the Department of Public Safety in Marion.

Burke County

Elizabeth Smith, a junior majoring in natural resources ecosystem assessment at North Carolina State University, has accepted the Natural Resources Inventory and Monitoring internship working with the Division of Museum of Natural Sciences in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Connelly Springs.

Lindsay Wells, a junior majoring in psychology at Western Carolina University, has accepted the Volunteer Program internship, working with the Division of State Operated Healthcare Facilities in the Department of Health and Human Services in Morganton.

Cabarrus County

Chris Jones, a sophomore majoring in political science at North Carolina State University, has accepted the Constituent Services internship, working with the Office of Constituent Services in the Office of the Governor in Raleigh.

Caldwell County

Lauren Roland, a graduate student studying public history at North Carolina State University, has accepted the Museum Collections Assistant internship, working with the Division of History Museums in the Department of Cultural Resources in Elizabeth City.

Chatham County

Chelsea Gardner, a junior double majoring in communication and public relations at North Carolina State University, has accepted the Press Assistant internship, working with the Office of the Secretary in the Department of Health and Human Services in Raleigh.

Cherokee County

Kenneth Hill, a junior majoring in history at North Carolina State University, has accepted the Historical Archives Manager/Curator internship, working with the Division of Parks and Recreation in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Chimney Rock.

Cleveland County

Joseph Haskett, a senior double majoring in accounting and management at Appalachian State University, has accepted the Engineering and Energy internship, working with Division of Administration in the Department of Public Safety in Raleigh.

Columbus County

Ashley Walker, a junior majoring in zoology at North Carolina State University, has accepted the Curator Assistant (Anthropod Zoo) internship, working with the Division of Museum of Natural Sciences in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Raleigh.

Cumberland County

Ana Ortiz, a junior majoring in criminal justice at Fayetteville State University, has accepted the Enterprise Resource Planning System Implementation Project internship, working with the Division of Administration in the Department of Public Safety in Raleigh.

Ciera Terry, a second year community college criminal justice student at Fayetteville Technical Community College, has accepted the Enterprise Resource Planning Research internship, working with the Division of Adult Corrections – Correction Enterprises in the Department of Public Safety in Raleigh.

Davidson County

Hannah White, a junior double majoring in psychology and criminal justice at Appalachian State University, has accepted the Correctional Case Manager internship, working with the Division of Adult Correction in the Department of Public Safety in Marion.

Durham County

Sirisha Balla, a junior majoring in computer engineering with accelerated masters at North Carolina State University, has accepted the Reporting System Design internship, working with the Division of Budget and Analysis in the Department of Health and Human Services in Raleigh.

Jeffrey Stickley, a second year community college geomatics student at Wake Technical Community College, has accepted the Global Navigation Satellite System (GNSS) VRS Post-Processing Analyst internship, working with the Division of Emergency Management in the Department of Public Safety in Raleigh.

Emily Johnson, a first year law student at Duke University School of Law, has accepted the Judge Advocate General internship, working with the Division of NC National Guard in the Department of Public Safety in Raleigh.

Forsyth County

Mary Toohey, a sophomore majoring in chemistry at Gardner-Webb University, has accepted the Husbandry internship, working with the Division of Aquariums in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Manteo.

Gaston County

Lauren Huffsteller, a sophomore majoring in environmental sciences at North Carolina State University, has accepted the Coastal Reserve Education internship, working with the Division of Coastal Management in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Beaufort.

Guilford County

Elizabeth Obermeyer, a junior majoring in community and regional planning at Appalachian State University, has accepted the Policy and Legislative Affairs internship, working with the Office of the Secretary in the Department of Administration in Raleigh.

Lisa Withers, a graduate student studying history at UNC-Greensboro, has accepted the Collections and Education internship, working with the Division of State History Museums in the Department of Cultural Resources in Fayetteville.

Devin Davis, a junior majoring in marketing at Winston-Salem State University, has accepted the Connecting Students with NC Business and Industry internship, working with the Division of Environmental Assistance and Customer Service in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Raleigh.

Harnett County

Samuel Fiero, a senior majoring in computer science at UNC-Charlotte, has accepted the Enterprise Resource Planning System Implementation Project internship, working with the Division of Administration in the Department of Public Safety in Raleigh.

Jonathan Bushhouse, a junior majoring in history with teacher licensure at Campbell University, has accepted the Historical Research and Visitor Services internship, working with the Division of State Historic Sites in the Department of Cultural Resources in Four Oaks.

James Moran, a senior majoring in writing at Methodist University, has accepted the Research Assistant and Curriculum Editor internship, working with the Division of Guardian Ad Litem in the Department of Administrative Office of the Courts in Raleigh.

Iredell County

Darius Knott, a junior majoring in information technology at Lenior-Rhyne University, has accepted the Information Technology Efficiency Study internship, working with the Office of the State CIO in the Department of Information Technology Services in Raleigh.

Johnston County

Tippett, Lindsay, a junior majoring in accounting at Methodist University, has accepted the Eagle Auditor: Annual EAGLE internship, working with the Office of the Secretary in the Department of Health and Human Services in Raleigh.

Lee County

Michelle Douglas, a sophomore majoring in agricultural science at North Carolina State University, has accepted the Farmland Preservation and Agricultural Development internship, working with the Division of Farmland Preservation in the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services in Raleigh.

Lenoir County

Rebekah Sparrow, a junior majoring in history at North Carolina State University, has accepted the Junior Interpreter Supervisor and Historic Interpreter internship, working with the Division of Historic Sites in the Department of Cultural Resources in Durham.

Mecklenburg County

Jackson Ulmer, a junior majoring in computer information systems at Appalachian State University, has accepted the Information Technology Efficiency Study internship, working with the Office of the State CIO in the Department of Information Technology Services in Raleigh.

Lana Chiad, a junior majoring in english/language, writing, and rhetoric at North Carolina State University, has accepted the NCDOT Media/Public Relations internship, working with the Division of Communications Office in the Department of Transportation in Raleigh.

Natalie Bock, a sophomore majoring in environmental and natural resources management at Clemson University, has accepted the Wildlife Educator-Pisgah Center for Wildlife Education internship, working with the Division of NC Wildlife Commission in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Pisgah Forest.

Jennifer Waldkirch, a junior majoring in history at UNC-Chapel Hill, has accepted the Historic Interpreter internship, working with the Division of Historic Sites in the Department of Cultural Resources in Durham.

Christina Reid, a first year law student at Charlotte School of Law, has accepted the Law internship, working with the Office of General Counsel in the Department of Public Safety in Raleigh.

New Hanover County

Brandi Potter, a junior majoring in marine biology conservation at UNC-Wilmington, has accepted the Fisheries and Habitat Assessment Surveys at Albemarle Sound internship, working with the Division of Marine Fisheries in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Elizabeth City.

Onslow County

Alec Boykin, a junior majoring in accounting at Campbell University, has accepted the Engineering and Energy internship, working with the Division of Administration in the Department of Public Safety in Raleigh.

Orange County

Yuman Wang, a junior majoring in economics at UNC-Chapel Hill, has accepted the Getting NC Students 21st Century Ready internship, working with the Division of Academic Program and Student Services in the Department of Community Colleges in Raleigh.

Franklin Luca, a graduate student majoring in engineering physics at Appalachian State University, has accepted the Astronomy Lab internship, working with the Division of Museum of Natural Sciences in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Raleigh.

Courtney Reynolds, a junior majoring in global studies and global health and environment in Latin America, has accepted the Special Activities Instructor internship, working with the Division of NC Aquariums in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Manteo.

Eric Hinderliter, a first year law student at UNC-Chapel Hill School of Law, has accepted the Summer Intern at Court of Appeals, in the Department of Justice in Raleigh.

Pender County

Natalie Monnier, a sophomore majoring in biological sciences at North Carolina State University, has accepted the Summer Program Educator internship, working with the Division of Aquariums in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Kure Beach.

Pitt County

Nazasa Kamali Khoei, a sophomore majoring in computer science at East Carolina University, has accepted the Web Design internship, working with the Division of Budget and Analysis in the Department of Health and Human Services in Raleigh.

Louisa Clark, a junior majoring in journalism and mass communication at UNC-Chapel Hill, has accepted the Graphic Design: Tourism, Marketing and Global Branding internship, working with the Division of Tourism, Marketing and Global Branding in the Department of Commerce in Raleigh.

Martha Pinion, a junior majoring in nursing at East Carolina University, has accepted the Diabetic Educator – Improving Treatment Outcomes of Diabetic Patients through Education and Pharmacy Interventions internship, working with the Division of State Operated Healthcare Facilities in the Department of Health and Human Services in Kinston.

Randolph County

Ian Dunn, a sophomore majoring in environmental studies at Eckerd College, has accepted the Environmental Education and Natural Resource Project internship, working with the Division of NC State Parks in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in West Jefferson.

Robeson County

Zachary Windley, a junior majoring in computer science at UNC-Pembroke, has accepted the SAP Business Objects to SAS Migration internship, working with the Division of Technology Solutions and Distance Learning in the Department of Community Colleges in Raleigh.

Rowan County

Robert Gibson, a second year law student at Wake Forest University School of Law, has accepted the Law Clerk for Supreme Court Justice internship, working with the Division of Supreme Court in the Department of Justice in Raleigh.

Sampson County

Sandra Tyler, a junior majoring in accounting at Methodist University, has accepted the Cost Analysis for Basic Law Enforcement Training (BLET) Program internship, working with the Division of Training and Standards in the Department of Justice in Salemburg.

Scotland County

Jazmine Davis, a senior majoring in industrial & systems engineering at North Carolina State University, has accepted the Lean Six Sigma Process Improvement internship, working with the Division of Motor Vehicles in the Department of Transportation in Raleigh.

Transylvania County

Elisabeth Moore, a sophomore majoring in history at Gardner-Webb University, has accepted the Public Programs Educator internship, working with the Division Archives and History in the Department of Cultural Resources in Raleigh.

Union County

Taylor Kiker, a junior majoring in environmental technology and management/environmental toxicology at North Carolina State University, has accepted the Stewardship and Research internship, working with the Division of Coastal Management in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Beaufort.

Halie Reed, a junior double majoring in psychology and political science at UNC-Chapel Hill, has accepted the Museum Education Program Assistant internship, working with the Division of State History Museums in the Department of Cultural Resources in Beaufort.

Elizabeth Medlin, a junior double majoring in Spanish language and literatures at North Carolina State University, has accepted the Enhancing Awareness of Language Access Services in the Courts and Identifying Efficiencies internship, working with the Division of Court Programs in the Department of Administrative Office of the Courts in Raleigh.

Wake County

Yu Chung, a junior majoring in accounting at North Carolina State University, has accepted the Enterprise Resources Planning System Implementation Project internship, working with the Division of Administration in the Department of Public Safety in Raleigh.

Michael Hatcher, a senior majoring in biological and agricultural engineering at North Carolina State University, has accepted the Engineering and Energy internship, working with the Division of Administration in the Department of Public Safety in Raleigh.

William Fetzner, a sophomore majoring in biology at UNC-Wilmington, has accepted the Summer Program internship, working with the Division of Museum of Natural Sciences in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Raleigh.

Christiane Newell, a junior majoring in communications at William Peace University, has accepted the NC State Fair Public Relations –Social Networking and Grassroots Marketing internship, working with the Division of Public Affairs in the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services in Raleigh.

Andrew Rather, a sophomore majoring in computer science at North Carolina State University, has accepted the Applications Developer Team Member internship, working with the Division of the NC National Guard in the Department of Public Safety in Raleigh.

Brenden Burns, a junior double majoring in economics and public studies at Vanderbilt University, has accepted the Legislative Research Assistant internship, working with the Senate in the General Assembly in Raleigh.

Alexa Pecht, a senior majoring in environmental studies at North Carolina State University, has accepted the NC Initiative to Reduce Underage Drinking internship, working with the ABC Commission in the Department of Commerce in Raleigh.

Graeme Pischke, a sophomore majoring in filmmaking at UNC School of the Arts, has accepted the Using Video to Market as Environmental Recognition Program internship, working with the Division of Environmental Assistance and Customer Service in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Raleigh.

Stephen Brockington, a junior majoring in fisheries, wildlife and conservation biology at North Carolina State University, has accepted the Mapping Rare Species Using GIS and Biotics Conservation Database internship, working with the Division of Conservation, Planning, and Community Affairs in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Raleigh.

Megan Brown, a junior majoring in history at North Carolina State University, has accepted the Summer Program internship, working with the Museum of Natural Sciences in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Raleigh.

Connor Riser, a sophomore majoring in industrial and labor relations at Cornell University, has accepted the Office of the Lieutenant Governor internship, working with the Office of the Lieutenant Governor in Raleigh.

Natalie Hobson, a sophomore majoring in international studies at the University of South Carolina, has accepted the Legislative – NC House of Representatives internship, working with the House of Representatives in the General Assembly in Raleigh.

Melissa Woodard, a first year law student at Campbell School of Law, has accepted the Court of Appeals internship, working in the Court of Appeals in the Department of Justice in Raleigh.

Isabella Shaw, a second year law student at Wake Forest University School of Law, has accepted the Legal internship, working with the Directors Office in the Office of State Human Resources in Raleigh.

Katherine Kyzer, a junior majoring in meteorology at North Carolina State University, has accepted the Clean Water internship, working with the Division of State Property in the Department of Administration in Raleigh.

Claire Michaels, a junior majoring in political science at Appalachian State University, has accepted the International Business Recruitment and Global Operations Support internship, working with the Division of Business and Industry Development in the Department of Commerce in Raleigh.

Neel Mandavilli, a sophomore majoring in political science at North Carolina State University, has accepted the Marketing and Public Affairs Assistantship internship, working with the President's Office/Executive Division in the Department of Community Colleges in Raleigh.

Philipp Lindermann, a sophomore majoring in political science at North Carolina State University, has accepted the Development of Marketing Materials for Soil and Water Conservation Programs internship, working with the Division of Soil and Water Conservation in the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services in Raleigh.

Samantha Hovaniec, a junior majoring in political science at UNC-Chapel Hill, has accepted the Policy and Economic Analysis internship, working with the Division of LEAD in the Department of Commerce in Raleigh.

Divya Tangella, a junior majoring in psychology at North Carolina State University, has accepted the Operation Medicine Drop internship, working with the Office of the State Fire Marshall in the Department of Insurance in Raleigh.

Adam Ezell, a junior majoring in public administration at Appalachian State University, has accepted the HUB Outreach internship, working with the Office for Historically Underutilized Businesses in the Department of Administration in Raleigh.

Adrianna Parker, a graduate student studying social work at North Carolina State University, has accepted the WOW (World of Work) Youth Employment internship, working with the Division of Services for the Blind in the Department of Health and Human Services in Raleigh.

Warren County

William Bugg, a junior majoring in environmental science at North Carolina State University, has accepted the Introduction and Preservation of Southeastern Mollusk internship, working with the Museum of Natural Sciences in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Raleigh.

Watauga County

Olivia Horton, a sophomore majoring in psychology and communication studies at UNC- Chapel Hill, has accepted the Broughton Hospital Junior Mentor Program internship, working with the Division of State Operated Healthcare Facilities in the Department of Health and Human Services in Morganton.

Jesse Hoskins, a junior majoring in recreation management at Appalachian State University, has accepted the Assistant Park Ranger internship, working with the Division of Parks and Recreation in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Carolina Beach.

Wayne County

Shaquilla Jones, a senior majoring in psychology at UNC-Charlotte, has accepted the Volunteering Program internship, working with the Division of State Operated Healthcare Facilities in the Department of Health and Human Services in Butner.

Wilkes County

Holly Bare, a junior Elementary Education major at Campbell University, has accepted the Discovery Room internship, working with the Museum of Natural Sciences in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resources in Raleigh.

Yadkin County

Emma Pardue, a junior journalism/mass communication major at UNC-Chapel Hill, has accepted the Constituent Services internship, working with the Office of Constituent Services in the Office of the Governor in Raleigh.